FOREWORD

SUCCESSFUL men in all lines of endeavor will admit, in most cases, that they have attained their positions by applying knowledge gained from the study and reading of books bearing directly and indirectly on their particular work and interests. In this way, they will tell you, it is possible to obtain in a few years, practical knowledge that would otherwise require a lifetime of experience.

Admitting the necessity of study and reading to achieve success and to keep up with the rapidly moving business procession, the question arises: "Which of the many books published are the most reliable, authoritative and practical for study or reference?"

It was with this question before us that we listed and described in the following pages some of the Best Books about printing and the allied trades, to facilitate the selection of books that will help, instruct and interest the printer and his employees in their efforts to perfect themselves in their particular lines, and to enable them to get a more comprehensive and practical knowledge of the trade in all its branches.

We do not claim to include all of the books or even all the good books on the subjects; it would be almost impossible to do so. We do, however, give a representative list — any or all of which will prove valuable to the apprentice in learning the trade, to the journeyman in preparing himself for better employment and remuneration, and to the employer for advanced ideas and methods.

This catalogue is, without doubt, the most complete of its kind, and we hope that every one who gets a copy will appreciate the effort and expense connected with its compilation and manufacture, and will put it on file for future reference if not for immediate use. We will be glad to send a copy to any one professing interest either directly or through a friend or fellow workman.

READ CAREFULLY BEFORE ORDERING

The size and number of pages is given in every case, and all books are bound in cloth unless otherwise specified.

We do not make a practice of sending books on approval, and purchases are not subject to return or exchange unless found imperfect or damaged, in which case we should be notified immediately on receipt.

Remittance (postal or express order preferred) should accompany orders from individuals not having charge accounts.

When books are to be sent by mail or express, the delivery charges as shown in each case should accompany the remittance.

THIS SERVICE WILL BE FOUND INVALUABLE, ESPECIALLY TO THOSE LIVING REMOTE FROM BOOK CENTERS

Aside from the books listed in this catalogue and many others about Printing and the allied trades, we can supply practically every book published in other branches of literature.

Our connection with the publishers of "The Dial," the leading literary journal of America, enables us to keep in close touch with the activities of the publishing world, and we will welcome an opportunity to advise you or suggest the best to be had in books of Fiction, History, Biography, Travel, Stories for Children, etc., etc.

"Books of the Month," an attractive pamphlet giving accurate and honest description of all the new books on the above subjects, will be sent each month free to any address. In placing an order with us, you may be sure that our service will be as good and our prices as low as can be had anywhere.

EMPLOYING PRINTERS' PRICE LIST FOR PRINTING AND BINDING

By DAVID RAMALEY. This book contains valuable information for every printer. It is arranged in systematic and simple form, very concise, yet complete in details. 160 pages. Size, 3¾x6¾. Price, Leather, $2.00; Cloth, $1.50. Postage, 10 cents extra.

HOW TO ADVERTISE PRINTING

By HARRY M. BASFORD. This book has been written for the purpose of guiding the printer in advertising his business. The author writes from extensive knowledge of the subject and presents his suggestion and plans in a clear and convincing manner. Examples of good copy are given that can easily be modified to fit local conditions. Illustrated. 112 pages. Size, 5x7½. Price, $1.50. Postage, 15 cents extra.

STARTING A PRINTING-OFFICE

By R. C. MALLETTE. A handbook for those about to establish themselves in the printing business and for those already established. Contents: The Printer as a Business Man; Selection and Location of Plant; The Business Office; The Composing-room; The Pressroom; Light, Power and Heat; The Stockroom; The Book of Samples; Entering the Order; The Job in Process; Determining Cost; Bookkeeping; Preparing and Giving Estimates; Collections and Payments; Advertising and Office Stationery; Employer and Employees; Small Economies and Time-savers. 88 pages. Size, 6x9. Price, $1.50. Postage, 10 cents extra.

LOCKWOOD'S DIRECTORY OF THE PAPER AND STATIONERY TRADES

This standard work is printed each year in September and each new edition is thoroughly revised and brought up-to-date. The forty-first edition is now ready, and the complete, accurate information it contains makes it a valuable printers' reference-book. 750 pages. Size, 6x9. Price, $3.00. Postage, 20 cents extra.

BUILDING AND ADVERTISING A PRINTING BUSINESS

By H. H. STALKER. This book treats of methods of improving the quality of output and turnover, and gives suggestive advertisements for printers. It will prove a source of inspiration and practical worth to every one who reads it. 60 pages. Size, 5x7½. Price, $1.00. Postage, 5 cents extra.

AMSTUTZ OPTICAL MICROMETER

A folding pocket magnifier which makes the one one-thousandth part of an inch just as easily recognizable as the one one-hundredth part of an inch on an ordinary steel rule is to the unaided eye. It magnifies thirteen diameters, and is made more rigid than the well-known French linen provers that have been in use for many years. These usually have a square one-quarter-inch hole in the stage. The printer using so many engravings needs such a glass to determine their lines per inch, etc. Thicknesses of paper, cardboard, etc., can be measured. The exact amount color or tint plates are out of register is at once settled without dispute, thus the present element of guessing is done away with once and for all. Linotype operators will find the Optical Micrometer both practicable and of scientific interest. Artists can definitely make pen-drawings with lines of known width to properly stand reduction, thus insuring greater uniformity in their finished results, and gradually educating every one to think of engravings in terms of relative tonal values. ¼ inch opening, price, $3.00. ½ inch opening, price, $5.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

THE LANGSETH RAPID TYPE ESTIMATOR

A comprehensive chart showing the amount of space any number of words will occupy in any size type from 5 to 18 point (solid or leaded). Allowance is made for difference in width in those bodies by giving two and three sizes for 5½-point and 6-point. "If you know the number of words, you can tell at a glance the space they will fill in any size body type." The chart is substantially bound, printed on enameled cloth and varnished. Price, $5.00. Postage, 15 cents extra.

THE PRINTERS' GREEN BOOK

This is a compact, handy volume, containing a classified list of papers, giving the prices and names and addresses of jobbers who carry them in stock. The book is national in character, listing almost every paper jobber in the country. Over 1,100 water-marked bonds and linens, nearly 400 water-marked ledgers, about 700 water-marked flats as well as 400 covers, and over 600 book papers have been listed, making the book a valuable desk companion for all printers and paper jobbers. Published annually. Size, 4x6. Price, $2.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

PRINTERS' INSURANCE PROTECTIVE INVENTORY SYSTEM

By CHARLES S. BROWN. This system has been in use in large and small plants for seventeen years, and its simplicity and efficiency have been demonstrated many times by actual test and years of service. It is accepted by Fire Insurance Companies as absolute proof and a basis for settlement. It saves the expense of appraisers and time lost in disputes which always arise if the assured is not prepared to show what his plant value was before a fire. This system will also tell you instantly — the worth of your plant — the source of all purchases — what insurance to carry — what your investment is. It will renovate your plant and disclose enough old worn-out materials, ready to be sold, to more than pay for itself. It is classified, perpetual, and informs you of your plant value every hour of the day, every day of the year. Blank book. — pages. Size, 11½x15. No. 1, for large job or newspaper offices, Price, $25.00; No. 2, for newspaper offices, Price, $15.00; No. 3, for job offices. Price, $15.00; No. 4, for small job and newspaper offices. Price, 10.00. Express extra.

INCREASING HUMAN EFFICIENCY IN BUSINESS

By WALTER DILL SCOTT. A valuable and interesting volume discussing the application of psychological principles to business to secure improvements and greater efficiency. Contents: The Possibility of Increasing Human Efficiency; Imitation, Competition, Loyalty, Concentration; Wages and Pleasure as a Means of Increasing Human Efficiency; The Love of the Game and Efficiency; Relaxation as a Means of Increasing Human Efficiency; The Rate of Improvement in Efficiency; Practice Plus Theory; Making Experience an Asset; Judgment Formation; Capitalizing Experience; Habit Formation. 340 pages. Size, 5x8. Price, $1.25. Postage, 10 cents extra.

PERFECT ORDER AND RECORD BOOK

By F. H. NICHOLS. This book is intended to reduce bookkeeping time as it serves both as an order book and journal. It tells at a glance whether orders are complete, their cost, if they have been posted, and whether or not a profit was made. Capacity for 3,000 orders. Size, 9½x12. Price, $3.00. Postage, 20 cents extra.

A SYSTEM FOR A MEDIUM-SIZED PRINT SHOP

By C. V. SIMMONS. A pamphlet of practical information. 24 pages. Size, 5¼x7. Price, 50 cents. Postage, 5 cents extra.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY IN THE PRINTING BUSINESS

By PAUL NATHAN. By relating the experiences of a man who has succeeded, this book answers in a detailed and comprehensive way the vital question "How to Make Money Out of Printing." It gives interesting facts and figures, and every point is comprehensively considered for developing and successfully conducting a printing business on a money-making basis. 288 pages. Size, 5¾x9. Price, $3.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

COSTS

COST ACCOUNTING — THEORY AND PRACTICE

By J. LEE NICHOLSON. From this book the reader can get a complete and thorough grasp of the basic principles of cost accounting and their application in actual work. Costs are resolved into their fundamental elements, and these are reassembled into four typical systems, which are the basis of every cost system, simple or complex. Each of these four systems is then taken up in detail, analyzed, explained, charted, and its application illustrated by examples. 340 pages. Size, 5¾x8½. Price, $4.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

COST-KEEPING FOR MANUFACTURING PLANTS

By STERLING H. BUNNELL. In this volume the author deals with all the essential principles of cost-accounts, and does this in a way which will appeal to a large class of readers. His accounting judgment is sound, and his style of expression is clear and attractive. The book does not aim to be an exhaustive treatment of the subject; but it presents fully and satisfactorily all the essential features. 225 pages. Size, 6x9½. Price, $3.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF ASCERTAINING COST OF MANUFACTURING

By J. CLIFF DANDO. This work is an earnest effort to assist the craft in that which is of the most vital interest to all and yet not thoroughly or satisfactorily solved by any — the problem of cost. It contains some fundamental principles which will assist any concerted movement to establish the correct system of standard. Has been unqualifiedly endorsed by users throughout the world. 80 pages. Size, 9x11. Leather. Price, $10.00. Postage, 20 cents extra.

HOW TO FIND COSTS IN PRINTING

By A. E. DAVIS. This book treats in a thorough yet simple and easily comprehensible way one of the most difficult phases of printing-office management. The author knows his subject well and offers suggestions that can easily be applied in the installation of a simple system for the finding of costs. Illustrations in full size of the necessary forms are given. Illustrated. 128 pages. Size, 5x7½. Price, $1.50. Postage, 10 cents extra.

PRACTICAL COST SYSTEM FOR SMALL PRINTING-OFFICES

By ROY T. PORTE. A simple cost system without frills for "small" printers and country newspaper offices — concerns that are isolated and can not well hire a cost expert. Every item is discussed and a reason given why it should be included in cost or apportioned to its particular department — a complete book of instructions. Copies of all the forms used are shown and there are two coupon sheets for asking questions, which will be answered free. 32 pages. Size, 6x9. Price, $2.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

PRINCIPLES OF FACTORY COST KEEPING

By EDWARD P. MOXEY, JR. This is a book for the beginner. The reader unacquainted with the technique of accounting will have no difficulty in getting from this work a clear conception of the essentials of cost work and their relative importance. A thorough understanding of what it contains will give an excellent foundation for the more detailed study of actual cost accounting practice. 100 pages. Size, 5½x8. Price, $1.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

HINTS FOR YOUNG PRINTERS UNDER EIGHTY

By W. A. WILLARD. A discussion of the cost of producing printing and of methods of fixing prices. 113 pages. Size, 8x11. Paper. Price, 50 cents. Postage, 5 cents extra.

ESTIMATING

CAMPSIE'S POCKET ESTIMATE BOOK

By JOHN W. CAMPSIE. The system exploited in this little book is one that has been in practical use for years in one of the largest and most successful plants in the country. It is so arranged that it is next to impossible to make an error in estimating printing. 274 pages. Size, 3¼x6. Paper. Price, $1.00. Postage, 5 cents extra.

HOW TO ESTIMATE ON PRINTING

By HARRY M. BASFORD. This book has been written especially for the man desiring to learn to do estimating and is also of value to experienced estimate men, employing printers and all who wish to improve their knowledge of modern methods in printing. The author is a practical man and tells his story in an understandable manner. Illustrated. 106 pages. Size, 5x7½. Price, $1.50. Postage, 10 cents extra.

IMPOSITION

By F. J. TREZISE. In this handbook for printers the fundamental principles of imposition are accurately and clearly set forth. More attention has been given to the smaller forms than is generally the case, and numerous diagrams and illustrations are presented as a material aid in making the text clear. The average printer needs a thorough explanation of the forms that may be termed regular — not of numerous diagrams for eighteen, twenty, thirty-six and forty-page forms which are rarely used. No attempt has been made to revolutionize present methods of imposition, but simply to present them in a clear and understandable manner. Contents: Forms for Platen Press, Four-page Forms, Eight-page Forms, Folder Forms, Twelve-page Forms, Sixteen-page Forms, Eighteen-page Forms, Twenty-page Forms, Twenty-four-page Forms, Thirty-two-page Forms, Thirty-six-page Forms, Imposition for Folding Machines — Dexter Folders, Chambers Folders, Brown Folders. *84 illustrations. 72 pages. COLOR

COLOR NOTATION

By A. H. MUNSELL. This book explains the characteristics of color in an understandable way. The author does not call on the spectrum or colored lights to prove his theory, but deals with every-day pigments so that the artist, engraver and printer can understand his definitions of color and duplicate his demonstrations in studio or shop. All color, he states, has three qualities which he defines as: Hue, Value and Chroma. Using the Century Dictionary definitions of these terms — Hue is the name of a color, as red, yellow, green, blue or purple. Value is the light of a color, that is the term which tells the amount of white or black there is in it. Chroma is the strength of a color, the term used to distinguish a strong from a weak color. Illustrated. 113 pages. Size, 5x8. Price, $1.25. Postage, 10 cents extra.

COLOUR HARMONY AND CONTRAST

By JAMES WARD. This is a practical manual for the art student, designer, printer and others engaged in any occupation where a practical knowledge of color is essential. It treats the subject both in its physical and artistic aspects, and also shows the connection as well as some of the distinctions between the scientific theory of the spectral colors of light and the artistic practice of color harmony and contrast. Illustrated. 140 pages. Size, 6x9½. Price, $4.20. Postage, 15 cents extra.

COLOR PROBLEMS

HOW TO DRAW

By LEON BARRITT. A practical book of instruction in the art of illustration, presenting numerous reproductions of original drawings by America's famous illustrators, cartoonists, and comic artists. It is a compact and clearly written book of instruction. The lessons are illustrated by numerous sketches and diagrams. The methods of successful illustrators are shown in specimens of their work. Illustrated. 107 pages. Size, 9¼x12. Boards. Price, $2.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

THE ART OF MAKING AND USING SKETCHES

By G. FRAIPONT. This treatise is mainly intended for the use of artists in black and white. The author divides into classes the various modes of sketching, and indicates some practical methods of executing and of making use of a sketch, allowing for differences in artistic tastes and temperament. 50 illustrations. 99 pages. Size, 5x8. Price, 50 cents. Postage, 5 cents extra.

LINE AND FORM

By WALTER CRANE. The substance of the chapters in this book originally formed a series of lectures, and the subject is dealt with in a way intended to bear upon the practical work of an art school and to be suggestive and helpful to those face to face with the current problems of drawing and design. Illustrated. 288 pages. Size, 5½x7½. Price, $2.25. Postage, 10 cents extra.

THE HUMAN FIGURE

By JOHN H. VANDERPOEL. This work is the clearest exposition of human figure drawing ever attempted. The text is a thorough analysis of the human figure from the artist's standpoint, feature by feature and as a whole. The author was for thirty years one of the most distinguished teachers of drawing in America and he has put into this book a full, concise exposition of his system. The reproductions of masterly drawings (full page size) and the numerous sketches, showing parts of the body in various positions and actions, are of the greatest value to the student and the working artist. The general public will also find this book valuable and interesting for study and reference. 54 full page illustrations and 330 marginal sketches. 168 pages. Size 6¼x10. Price, $2.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

HOW TO DRAW FROM MODELS

By W. E. SPARKES. The object throughout this book has been mainly to show how model drawing, as generally understood, may be an intelligent means of driving home those principles of foreshortening and grouping that must be grasped before a satisfactory sketch of any object can be made. For this reason attention has been drawn to the lines in buildings, and common and natural objects, and some hints are given on the value of knowing what to omit and what to emphasize in an outline. 148 illustrations. 136 pages. Size, 5x7½. Price, $1.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

LETTERING

ALPHABETS — A HANDBOOK OF LETTERING

By FRANK G. JACKSON. An elementary text-book of principles and practice. Contents: Linear Ornament; Brushwork; Study of Nature; Conventional Ornament; Composition; Acanthus Foliage. Illustrated. 178 pages. Size, 5x8. Price, $2.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

THE PRINCIPLES OF DESIGN

By ERNEST A. BATCHELDER. In this work the interesting subject of Design is explained in clear and lucid terms and illustrated by forceful yet simple drawings which give the student a very encouraging grasp upon its basic principles. The fundamental laws of why and how form is made pleasing to the sight are explained and shown so convincingly that the mind grasps the subject tenaciously, holds it and is strengthened to build upon it. Conceptions can by the aid of this work be brought to fruition, and the production hold its place as a creation combining utility and art in their best forms. Illustrated. 175 pages. Size, 6x9. Price, $3.00. Postage, 15 cents extra.

LESSONS ON FORM

By A. BLUNCK. Illustrating the fundamental forms of ancient, medieval and modern ornament; leaf, flower and fruit forms; festoons and garlands; Heraldic and symbolical figures, scrolls, etc., in their purest and simplest form. The designs are in clear black outline on square-ruled paper. One hundred and twenty-four plates with twenty pages of descriptive text. *Illustrated. PREPARATION OF MANUSCRIPT FOR PRINTER 161

If reference numbers are used for footnotes, these should be continuous on the page, but not continuous throughout the chapter This practice will permit of later insertions of additional footnotes, without expense for renumbering the entire series. Numbering of footnotes is preferable to the use of asterisks or other symbols

If the author's name is given in the text in connection with a reference to, or a quotation from, his work, it should not be repeated in the footnote

This theory is questioned by Herbert, as follows "I cannot admit," etc

[1] Laws of the Ancients I, 153 [Author's name is omitted.]

It is better to place at the end of the quotation, rather than before it, the index figure or symbol which refers in the text to the footnote (see illustration above)

The following should be the form of references in footnotes

[1] C. R. Henderson, Industrial Insurance (2d ed., Chicago, The University of Chicago Press, 1912), p. 321, S I Curtis, "The Place of Sacrifice," Biblical World, XXI (1902), 248 ff

The order of the details should be: (1) author's name, followed by a comma, not a colon; (2) title (if of a book or periodical, underscored; if of an article, quoted), (3) number of edition, if desired, (4) place of publication, followed by a colon; (5) name of publisher and date of publication; (6) reference to volume and page. In case the reference includes the volume number, it is better to omit the abbreviations "Vol." and "p." as in the second example above (see chap v, sec 13).

CELLULOID

CELLULOID — MANUFACTURE, APPLICATIONS AND SUBSTITUTES

By MASSELON, ROBERTS and CILLARD. This is a handbook for students and workers, a valuable technical treatise dealing with the subject in the plainest possible language. It contains all the information, both academic and practical, that is recorded up to the present time. As celluloid occupies quite a prominent position in the printing arts, its nature and origin should be known to those who handle it. Illustrated. 356 pages. Size, 6¼x9. Price, $7.50. Postage, 15 cents extra.

CELLULOID

By F. BOECKMANN. This book is valuable and interesting to printers using celluloid. It describes the raw material, the manufacture, properties and uses. 49 illustrations. 120 pages. Size, 6¼x9¼. Price, $2.50. Postage, 10 cents extra.

TYPE

MIXING PRINTERS' METALS

By G. A. RIGHTER. Simply expressed practical rules for mixing and caring for the various formulae of metals used in the different processes and in manufacturing type. 22 pages. Size, 3¼x6. Paper. Price, $1.50. Postage, 5 cents extra.

PLAIN PRINTING TYPES

By THEODORE L. DE VINNE, A. M. A treatise on the processes of type-making, the point system, the names, sizes, styles, and prices of types. A volume for all who would learn of the history and characteristics of type-faces. Illustrated. 403 pages. Size, 5x7½. Price, $2.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

TYPOGRAPHICAL PRINTING SURFACES

By L. A. LEGROS and J. C. GRANT. A practical handbook of typography, manual and mechanical, in its first stage. It is practically with printing surfaces alone that this work deals, and not with the impression produced. It covers thoroughly the technology and mechanism employed in the production of printing surfaces, and the authors claim that they do not know of a book in any language which embraces in its scope the same area of knowledge and from which similar information either of fact, figure, or deduction is accessible. Contents: Preface; Introduction; Printing Surfaces; Typography; Description of Type; Type Founding; Type Design; Founts of Type; Units and Dimensions; Type Faces; Series, Proportions and Weight; Logotypes; Legibility; Punch Cutting; Matrices; Moulds; Pumps; Classification of Type-casting, Composing, Line-Justifying and Distributing Machinery; Keyboards; Casting Machines; Composing Machines; Line-justifying Machines; Distributing Machines; Casting and Composing Machines; Casting and Distributing Machines; Casting and Line-justifying Machines; Composing and Line-justifying Machines; Composing and Distributing Machines; Casting, Composing, and Line-justifying machines; Composing, Line-justifying, and Distributing Machines; Matrix-composing, Line-justifying and Slug or Type-casting Machines; Impression Machines, Transfer Machines, Type-bar Machines, Photographic, and Cognate Unclassified Machines; Stereotyping; Typographic Etching, Relief Process Blocks, and Electrotyping; The Language of China and its Typographic Expression; Hieroglyphic, Cognate, Syllabic, and Other Scripts; Ancient and Modern Scripts and Their Uses; Conclusion; Bibliography; Glossary; List of British Patents and Patentees; Lists of United States Patents and Patentees; General Index. 100 illustrations. 650 pages. Size, ——. Price, $12.50. Postage, 25 cents extra.

TOOLS AND UTILITIES

THE ELECTRIC MOTOR AND ITS PRACTICAL OPERATION

By ELMER E. BURNS. This book gives a clear and up-to-date explanation of the principles involved in the operation of all kinds of motors, including complete and accurate tables giving the horse-power required to drive all kinds of bookbinding and printing machinery, together with various other machines. Valuable to all modern printing-offices and other concerns using motor-driven machinery. Illustrated. 192 pages. Size, 5x7½. Price, $1.50. Postage, 10 cents extra.

HANDY LINO KIT

LINOTYPE UTILITY TOOL KIT

For Linotype machinists and machinist-operators. Contains all tools necessary for the proper care and ordinary repairs of the Linotype. List of tools: Machinists' hammer, extension hack saw with six blades, hand-vise, wrench, duck-nose pliers, cutting pliers, 3 screw-drivers, steel square, steel straight edge, 6 files with handles, tap wrench with 6 taps and drills, hand drill, 3 punches, centerpunch, 2 cold chisels, copper rod, ¾ by 6 inches, assortment of screws likely to be needed and not carried in stock by hardware stores. Tools held securely in place by retaining straps, handsomely mounted in heavy dark duck case, thoroughly indestructible. Price, $18.00. Express extra.

MICROMETER

For machinist-operators. Measures all sizes from 0 to 1 inch by thousandths of an inch. Guaranteed accurate. Price, $3.50. Postage, 15 cents extra.

TYMPAN GAUGE SQUARE

By laying the gauge over the impression of the job on the tympan of a job press the correct margin can be determined and the place for the pins marked without guesswork or measuring. Made of transparent celluloid, ruled in picas. Price, 25 cents. Postage, 5 cents extra.

OVERLAY KNIFE

This knife has been subjected to a careful test for quality of temper. It will be found to hold a keen edge and to be flexible, enabling the operator to divide a thin sheet of paper very delicately. In all respects it is of the most superior manufacture, and is the only overlay knife made that is fully suited to present-day needs. The blade runs the entire length of the handle, and is of uniform temper throughout. As the knife wears, cut away the covering as required. Price, 25 cents. Postage, 5 cents extra.

OVERLAY KNIFE

New, all metal; with one extra blade. Price, 35 cents. Postage, 5 cents extra. Additional blades, 5 cents each.

A transparent celluloid scale, laid off in quarter-inch squares, with a pivoted arm which may be placed diagonally at any angle; proportions of reduction and enlargement can be determined instantly. Price, $2.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

REDUCING GLASSES

These glasses are valuable to any one ordering engravings. They show just how a drawing or photograph will look when reduced, which enables you to tell how much reduction it will stand. Unmounted. Price, 35 cents. Postage, 5 cents extra.

ELECTROTYPING & STEREOTYPING

ELECTROTYPING

By C. S. PARTRIDGE. A practical treatise on the art of electrotyping, containing a historical review of the subject, full description of the tools and machinery required, and complete instructions for operating an electrotyping plant. Contents: Historical Review, The Battery, The Dynamo, The Bath, Steel, Brass and Nickel Baths, Management of Baths, Agitation of Baths, Measuring Instruments, Preparation of Work, Molding, Building, Metallizing, The Conductors, Depositing, Casting, Finishing, Trimming and Routing, Revising, Blocking, Dr. Albert's Metal Molds, Reference List of Terms, Processes and Apparatus. Second Edition. 214 pages. Size, 5½x8. Price, $2.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

ELECTROTYPING AND STEREOTYPING

By C. S. PARTRIDGE. A reference book giving information and instruction regarding processes, materials and machinery. It contains, in concise form, all the information heretofore published on these subjects, together with facts, figures, hints and suggestions gleaned from practical workmen and from the author's personal experience and observation. The book is an encyclopedia of information invaluable to the practical workman and the amateur. The subjects are carefully indexed and alphabetically arranged for the convenience of the reader. 135 pages. Size, 5x7. Price, $1.50. Postage, 5 cents extra.

STEREOTYPING

By C. S. PARTRIDGE. A practical treatise on all known methods of stereotyping, with special consideration of the papier-maché process, to which is added an appendix giving concise information on questions most frequently overlooked. The concise descriptive text, accompanied with copious illustrations, make this reference and instruction book valuable to stereotypers and every one interested in the graphic arts. 172 pages. Size, 5x8. Price, $2.00. Postage, 10 cents extra.

Every man associated, directly or indirectly, with printing should read EVERY ISSUE.

THE INLAND PRINTER

This great Trade Journal is the acknowledged leader in the field, and has the greatest number (15,000) of constant readers because it contains more pages of valuable and interesting reading-matter, more representative advertisements, and more helpful departments of concentrated practical, useful information about each branch of the trade.

THE INLAND PRINTER is not a show book of extreme or exceptional productions in graphic arts. It furnishes news, comments, and technical discussion of educational value to employer and employee, helpful to men who are doing every-day work and an aid to the craft as a whole. Its plans are systematic and based on sound and proved economical principles. Its policy is one of continuous advancement.

EMPLOYERS

find THE INLAND PRINTER of great practical value in their every-day work. It keeps them well informed of the most modern ideas, and almost every issue contains one or more articles on phases of business management and workroom efficiency that are worth many times the price of a subscription.

The generous array of specimens of commercial work, and hundreds of answers to questions from perplexed workers, which clear up difficulties and stimulate thought among craftsmen the world over are other features of value and interest to the employer.

THE INLAND PRINTER has contributed largely to the success of many flourishing firms who do not hesitate to acknowledge their indebtedness.

From a typographic and artistic standpoint, I do not see how THE INLAND PRINTER can be improved; and as to the mass of information which it contains, I do not see how any up-to-date printer can be without it.—John Nolty, President of the Evening Post Job Printing Office, New York.

COMPOSITORS

are offered a fund of helpful hints every month in THE INLAND PRINTER. In each number considerable space is devoted to the discussion, in simple, easy-to-understand language, of good and bad typography. These articles are graphically illustrated with many examples.

Each issue also contains an eight-page two-color insert in which a great many specimens of all kinds of jobwork are shown. These inserts constitute a continually growing library devised and constructed for the purpose of providing subjects from which compositors may get hints and ideas that will increase their efficiency and make themselves more valuable to their employers.

I have gained more practical knowledge of the business from its columns than from any office I have ever worked in.—Frank H. Lowe, Fort Smith, Ark.

MACHINE OPERATORS

consider THE INLAND PRINTER an absolute necessity in their work. No other publication is the repository of so many requests to solve troubles, and nowhere else are the troubles solved so quickly and thoroughly. While an operator may not be, or desire to be, a machinist, yet a knowledge of certain things about the machine will assist him greatly in his work. The latest inventions and attachments are first talked about in THE INLAND PRINTER.

Each month I am able to get information from the machine department that always proves of valuable assistance. I remove this section of THE INLAND PRINTER each month, and have several years filed away, and I make frequent use of them.—A central New York machinist-operator.

PHOTOENGRAVERS

have in THE INLAND PRINTER the pioneer exploiter of their comparatively young industry. Gamble, Benedict, and all the leaders acknowledge their indebtedness to the magazine and its processwork editor, Mr. S. H. Horgan.

Some years ago I saw a little hint in the engraving department of THE INLAND PRINTER which has saved me much money and a great deal of trouble. As long as I can raise the price I shall be a subscriber of THE INLAND PRINTER.—E. W. Rush, Glen Gardner, N. J.

find the Pressroom Department of THE INLAND PRINTER a never-ending source of reliable information. The to-the-point paragraphs must be authoritative and dependable, because they are quoted freely by the technical press of this and other countries. In addition to the articles that develop from our work in solving real pressroom problems, there are informing discussions on color and other subjects of interest to every progressive pressman.

I think it is the best journal for the trade on the market to-day. It certainly was an educator for me, for when I started out two years ago as a cylinder pressman I made good, and had the remark made to me, "How did you ever learn so much about the business, and you so young? We have men here for a long time who are barely getting along." It was THE INLAND PRINTER that I owe my success to, for I studied it; and I dearly loved to work at the good end of the trade, always looking for the best quality of work.—Frank J. Nestor, Providence, R. I.

is the name of the department which covers features that are useful to publishers and managers. New features are suggested and criticized, methods of procuring subscriptions are discussed, suggestions made as to how ads. and make-up may be improved, and all other phases of newspaper work are presented in an informing though concise way.

We can't keep house without THE INLAND PRINTER. Editors, "comps." and the "devil" all read it, and some one in one or the other departments gets a pointer from almost any issue that is worth more than the subscription price to them, and to us as proprietors. Keep 'er a-comin'. —Opelika Daily News, Opelika, Ala.

are not forgotten, as an excellent department is devoted to their interests. It is in all respects equal in standard to that of other departments. From time to time there are special articles devoted to this industry, and THE INLAND PRINTER is the recognized American medium for bookbindery knowledge. Our answering-question service is of particular value to printers who do bindery work on a small scale.

I am an all-around bookbinder and find a great deal in your journal that interests me, for it contains great meat for any bookbinder and printer to digest.—Jacob Lotz, Norfolk, Neb.

ADVERTISING MEN

find in THE INLAND PRINTER what they can not find in the volumes of matter written especially for their benefit. Proper display and arrangement of type is a great factor in the "pulling power" of an advertisement, and that subject receives its highest exposition in the pages of THE INLAND PRINTER.

Newspaper and magazine advertisements, booklets, pamphlets — the whole range of advertising literature — are reproduced and discussed, showing why this is right and that is wrong. There is no place where so much can be learned about the mechanical end of ad.-making as in THE INLAND PRINTER.

From the standpoint of the organizer, the practical printer and the art man, your publication leaves little to be desired, and we hope that our grandchildren will extract as much pleasure and profit from it in the future as we have in the past.—J. F. Fenner, Advertising Manager, A. M. Collins Manufacturing Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

find in Horace Teall's articles and answers to the questions of perplexed compositors and readers a never-ending stream of information. It is the one consistent and continuous department maintained for the use of proofreaders. Charles G. Low, the well-known writer for the trade press, says:

"I have learned many things from THE INLAND PRINTER, not the least of them being under the caption, 'Whims and Fallacies,' by Horace Teall."

APPRENTICES

are quick to learn that each issue of THE INLAND PRINTER contains something of particular interest to the youth who is starting on his career.

This is the quality that causes so many printers to say that more than half of what they know about the trade they learned from this magazine.

It is money in the employer's pocket to have his apprentice interested in THE INLAND PRINTER. The boy or man who is so interested is much more useful to himself and others than he would be otherwise.

It conducts practical contests in which apprentices show their work, and the boys are encouraged to write direct to our experts about their troubles.

Your apprentice department in THE INLAND PRINTER is certainly worthy of all praise, and so very, very instructive, as I find it.—Jos. M. Cassady, Spokane, Wash.
